

Covid-19 Update

In these uncertain times MK Products has taken many steps over the last couple of months to help keep our employees safe and healthy. These precautions and measures can only be implemented and governed during business hours and our time with the employees. As many people are still taking to social activities throughout our region, we have decided to reduce the risks at MK Products by reducing the amount of employees in our manufacturing facility at a time. We hope that this will continue to minimize risk to our employees and continue to allow us to provide product to our customers. As we continue to evolve with the current crisis, we will continue to evaluate our new operational processes and make adjustments as necessary with our employees and customers in mind.

At this point, as a critical manufacturer, we will maintain our current hours of operation and expect our customers to be able to receive the items they need to continue their critical functions and production needs.

If for any reason, you seek further information or have concerns over the support you will receive, I and other members of my team would be more than happy to discuss further.

Working together and communicating will ensure our success in getting through these tough times.

Be Safe,

CEO/President
